Wikipedia describes a cèilidh (Scottish Gaelic pronunciation: [\[ˈkʰeːli\]](#)) as a traditional Scottish social gathering. In its most basic form, it simply means a social visit. In contemporary usage, it usually involves playing Gaelic folk music and dancing, either at a house party or a larger concert at a social hall or other community gathering place. Our cèilidh will be an event for the whole family, full of food, music, dancing and general fun. The Frederick Scottish Country Dancers' very own Valerie Hill will be there to lead us in dancing for everyone. Wear comfortable shoes and your kilt if you have one, and come prepared to have a fun filled evening. BYOB
